This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE FIRST CHAPEL.

The Story of Pilgrim Church.

ON Sunday afternoon, May 13, 1883, at three o'clock, eleven children, with two adults as teachers, met for a Sunday School service at No. 6 Hancock street, the home of Mrs. Fannie H. Mighill, widow of the late Rev. Nathaniel Mighill of the Old South Church. Five of the children had never attended such a gathering; eight of the eleven were boys. At this time there was no place of worship between Piedmont street and Webster square, a distance of more than a mile in a rapidly growing part of the city. The hearts of some Christian women were stirred at the need, and they determined upon the work. Three boys brought in the other scholars of that first group. The superintendent of the Congregational City Missionary Society, Rev. W. T. Sleeper, took up the work enthusiastically, and a canvass of the neighborhood was made, under his direction, by Mrs. Fannie M. Bond, who acted also as a teacher for a while. In seven weeks the attendance had reached sixty-nine, of all ages, and on July 1 they were glad to move to the hall in the third story of the Woodland street school-house, the use of which was obtained through the mayor and superintendent of buildings. Up to this time Mrs. Mighill had charge of the school; July 8, Mr. Arthur E. Gray, of the Old South Church, was chosen superintendent. The name "Pilgrim" had been adopted June 24. The deep religious spirit of the movement soon expressed itself in a prayer meeting, which was held from house to house on Thursday evenings, the first being at the house of Mrs. Mighill, November 8, subject "The Beatitudes." Next was added a preaching service, held at four o'clock immediately after the school session, and cordially sustained by the clergymen and laymen of the city. The first sermon was preached by Rev. Albert Bryant, who was now superintendent of the City Missionary Society. The demand for a distinct church was unmistakable, and through Mr. Bryant's encouragement and guidance, fifty-seven were found to pledge themselves to such an organization. The celebration of the first anniversary was made memorable by the gift of a lot on the corner of Main and Gardner streets, from Mr. F. B. Knowles, of Piedmont Church, and Mrs. Helen C. Knowles, of Union Church, at which "they thanked God and took courage." July 17, 1884, a call was given to Rev. Charles M. Southgate, of Dedham, who began pastoral work November 16. With the first assurance of a pastor's coming a wooden chapel had been started, and on January 24, 1885, was occupied for worship. The texts of the day were from Revelation xxii; in the morning, "The Spirit and the Bride say, Come"; in the evening, "Whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." The spirit of God was present in power, saints were refreshed and souls saved that day.

Pilgrim Church was received into the Congregational fellowship and the pastor formally installed, March 19, 1885, by a council of twenty-five churches and four individuals. The assent to the confession of faith and covenant was conducted by Rev. George H. Gould, D. D.; Rev. George R. Leavitt, of Pilgrim Church, Cambridgeport, preached the sermon; Rev. Albert H. Plumb, D. D., of Roxbury, made the address to the church; Rev. Edward N. Packard, of Dorchester, offered the prayer of consecration; Rev. D. O. Mears, D. D., the prayer of installation; the welcome to the church was through Rev. George W. Phillips; Rev. Charles M. Lamson gave the charge to the pastor; Rev. Henry A. Stimson, the right hand of fellowship. Twenty-two united upon confession of faith, most of them representing the fruits of earlier labors in the Sunday School; sixty-six came from other churches.

The blessing of God had been on the work from the beginning, and the chapel, which seated four hundred, soon became crowded. None present will ever forget the surprise and thrill when, on the second anniversary of the organization of the church, over $13,000 were pledged for a new building. Subscriptions and gifts were added later, and the work undertaken, with Mr. Stephen C. Earle as architect and Messrs. Cutting & Bishop as contractors.

The corner-stone was laid October 22, 1887, on the same afternoon with that of Clark University, the trustees and officers of the two institutions attending both exercises in a body. July 1, 1888, the new building was dedicated, Rev. George W. Phillips, D. D., now of Rutland, Vt., preaching the sermon. The next New Year brought as a gift the former chapel, enlarged and refitted, forming a most useful annex for two departments of the Sunday school, for the social life, and the many organizations in which the rich activities of the church express themselves. The buildings, together, contain thirty distinct apartments for church uses, the Sunday school using twenty rooms or more in its sessions.

We note with joy and gratitude certain distinctive elements which have characterized the life of Pilgrim Church.

The special favor of God, leading by providences so marked and gracious that grievous doubts and peculiar difficulties have been but occasions for peculiar mercies.

The devotion and high spiritual purpose which have caused those who undertook and those who have since advanced the work, to feel that they were called with a holy calling, in which sacrifice was all joy.

The sympathy and generous financial aid of friends in other churches, who gave the larger part of the cost of the first chapel and expenses of the first year, and contributed toward the present church building. Such help to a company of believers, whose wealth was not in this world's goods, alone made possible a strong beginning and rapid advance. One name is held in undying honor and esteem, that of Mr. Francis B. Knowles, who had already been the moving force in the starting of more than one church in this city. Beginning with the purchase of the first lot, he added subscriptions to the chapel and its furnishings, and at its dedication presented a check covering all dues to that time. He guaranteed the pastor's salary for the first year. For the new building he made the largest single subscription, also the first $500 for the organ. Finally, it was at his expense the old chapel was enlarged and refitted for its present uses.

Not less gratefully should be recorded his unfailing desire for the highest spiritual life of the church, and his many words of prayer and inspiration, in public and private.

The incorporated society which manages the business affairs of the church, is made up wholly of members of the church. The Sunday school is considered a department of the church, its superintendent being elected by the church and reporting to it annually. Our Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor are fitly esteemed, and represented upon the Church Committee. The Ladies' Missionary Society and the Maternal Association fulfill their most important functions. The Ladies' Aid Society adds to social and benevolent activities, contributions to the building fund and running expenses averaging more than $1,100 annually for the past six years. The Men's Association forms a most valuable and unique supplement to the social life of the congregation.

Holding ever the great aim of the church to be the winning of souls to Christ and their growth in His likeness, Pilgrim Church also desires to make itself the center and home of all healthful and helpful activities. For this, and as efficient aids in its spiritual work, it values highly its various methods, similar to those used in what have recently been called "Institutional Churches," differing from most of these in the fact that each branch is practically self-supporting. The Girls' Industrial Class gathers more than two hundred in its annual sessions, representing half a score of nationalities and more than a score of churches, Romanist as well as Protestant. The boys have the carpenter shop, with skilled instruction, and the printing office. Besides these are the gymnasium, with its baths; the reading room, with literature, games and practical talks; the Pilgrim Cadets; the debating society, and various clubs and circles among the young people, social, missionary, instructive. Reports from all of these are a part of the annual church meeting.

From the first, Pilgrim Church has been a place of home-like cheer, with outstretched hand and heart's welcome.

It declares its loyalty to Christ by the Alpha-Omega wrought upon corner stone, rose window and pulpit.

No communion has yet passed without additions to the church.

It has found a benediction in the text somewhat daringly set over its portal:

"In This Place Will I Give Peace."

Doctrinal Basis.

I. We believe in one living and true God, who is the Creator of the heavens and the earth and all things therein, and is infinite, unchangeable, eternal, in power and knowledge, in holiness, justice, loving-kindness, wisdom and grace.

II. We believe that the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments were given by the infallible inspiration of God, so that they present the true views, and sanction no false views, of religious and moral doctrine and duty, and are our ultimate and only perfect rule of faith and practice.

III. We believe that the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit are each infinite in every divine perfection, are each to be supremely loved and worshiped; that they exist in an entire, a mysterious, and adorable union; are one, and the only one, God.

IV. We believe that God is love; that He is the Lawgiver who desires that all men should obey His commandments, all of which are holy, just and good; that He is the Sovereign by whom all the saints were chosen in Christ before the foundation of the world, that they should be holy and without blemish before Him in love; that while He worketh all things after the counsel of His own will, He sacredly guards the freedom of men, so that all transgressors of His law are without excuse.

V. We believe that unless regenerated by the special power of God, all men are entirely destitute of holiness, and give their supreme love to the creature rather than the Creator; that the very man through whom sin entered into the world was a figure of Him who came to break the dominion of sin; and that as death reigned over men through the one disobedience of Adam, so and much more will they who receive abundance of grace reign in life through the one obedience of Jesus Christ.

VI. We glorify the wisdom of the Father, who so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life.

VII. We glorify the Redeemer, who united His Divine nature with our human nature, and is both God and man in one person. We believe that He became our great High Priest and offered Himself as the vicarious sacrifice for the sins of the whole world. We rest our faith and hope on His propitiatory sufferings and death, which maintain inviolate the honor of the law, so that the Lawgiver may be just and yet the justifier of all men who truly repent of their transgressions. We rejoice that, as the Son of God became incarnate in order that His blood may cleanse us from the guilt and power of sin, so after He rose from the grave and ascended into heaven, He was crowned with glory and honor because He wrought out our redemption by His obedience unto death.

Our affections are gathered around Him as the central object of our faith, because in Him are blended the brightest manifestations of the Divine justice, the Divine wisdom, and the Divine grace; because, through the ages before He came into the world, He was prefigured by impressive sacrifices, and because through the ages since He left the world, He has been exalted to sit at the right hand of the Majesty on high, where He reigns as Head of the Church, and as the one Mediator between God and men, and where He ever liveth to make intercession for His people.

VIII. In like manner, we glorify the Holy Spirit, who comes to convince the world of sin, of righteousness, and of judgment, who applies the words and the work of Christ to the conscience and heart of men, and guides the humble into all the truth which they need for their salvation. We believe that all who love God supremely have been regenerated by the Holy Spirit; that all who are regenerated will be so preserved by Him that they will persevere in the Divine life unto the end; that, as their Comforter, He will dwell in their hearts, and move them to make progress in the way of His commandments.

IX. We believe that the doctrines of grace are the root out of which grow the duties of the Christian life; that the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness, temperance; that all who hope to be saved by faith should be ready unto every good work in the family and in the neighborhood—should be honest patriots, devout philanthropists, and should labor and pray for the conversion of the world to Christ.

X. We believe that all those whose outward life gives evidence of faith in the Redeemer should make confession of Him in the visible church instituted by Him; that the ministers of the church are appointed by Him to preach the word and to watch for the souls committed to their care; that the sacrament of baptism is a seal of the new covenant, and should be administered to believers and their children; that the sacrament of the Lord's Supper is a memorial of his atoning death, and should be administered to those who publicly profess their trust in the body broken and the blood shed on the cross.

XI. We believe that the Christian Sabbath is divinely appointed, and should be reverently observed as a day of holy rest and of social and public worship. We hallow it as the Lord's day, commemorative of His resurrection from the grave, and as a day, therefore, of hope and gladness. We prize it as a day which is essential to the highest welfare of the civil community as well as to the permanent unity, growth and strength of the Christian church, and as an emblem of our eternal rest in God.

XII. We believe that, in His adorable wisdom, our moral Ruler has attached an inestimable importance to our life on earth; that all men who in this life repent of sin will, at their death, enter on a course of perfect and unending holiness; that all who throughout the present life remain impenitent sinners will remain so forever; that both the just and the unjust will be raised from death at the last day, will stand before the judgment-seat of Christ, and will receive from Him their awards according to the deeds done in the body; so that the wicked will go away into endless punishment, but the righteous into endless life.

"Now unto Him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto Him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen."

Confession of Faith and Covenant.

As the minister reads the names of candidates, they shall present themselves before the pulpit, both those coming upon confession and those bringing letters from other churches. Receiving them with such words of Scripture as he may choose, he shall say:

The Lord Jesus Christ has said, "Whosoever shall confess Me before men, him will I confess also before My Father which is in heaven." Such confession let us now make, whether for the first time, or in renewal of earlier vows.

[They will repeat with him this:]

Confession of Faith.

I believe in one living and true God, Creator, Preserver, and Ruler of all things; absolute in power, glorious in holiness, plenteous in mercy and truth.

In the Father Almighty, Lord of an infinite majesty, whose commandment is holy and just and good; who so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son for its redemption:

And in Jesus Christ His Son, our Lord, who was in the beginning with God and was God; who became man, and suffered on the cross to take away the sin of the world; He arose from the dead, ascended up on high, and sitteth on the right hand of the Father, whence He shall come to judge the world in righteousness, that every one may receive the things done in the body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad:

And in the Holy Ghost, the Comforter, Lord and Giver of life, through whom alone we are renewed, sanctified, and kept unto eternal life; by whose inspiration the Scriptures were given; who with the Father and the Son, together one God, is supremely to be worshiped and glorified, world without end.

Before Almighty God I humbly acknowledge my guiltiness, and casting myself upon His infinite mercy and goodness, I hope for the forgiveness of sins, through our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

I believe in one Church on earth and in heaven; in one Baptism of water and of the Spirit; in the Communion of the body and blood of Christ; and I look for the resurrection of the dead and the life everlasting: AMEN.

[The minister shall then say:]

Hear the words of our Lord Jesus: "Go ye therefore and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost."

[To those baptized in infancy:]

You who in childhood were brought into God's covenant with believing parents, do now accept their act as your baptism, declaring your belief that the regeneration thereby symbolized has been wrought in your souls by the Holy Ghost.

[They assent. To any not baptized:]

You who have never been privileged to receive the outward seal of the covenant, trusting that your hearts have been renewed and that God has adopted you as children of His grace, will now receive the symbol of your faith in baptism.

[Candidates shall kneel in turn and receive the rite.]

Accepting with heartfelt belief these great truths of the glorious gospel of the blessed God, you do now reverently and joyfully enter into Covenant with Him and with this Church.

Covenant.

You do seriously, deliberately, and forever, give up yourselves in faith and love and holy obedience to God, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, to live not for the world, but for Him who hath redeemed you to Himself. You engage that, abiding henceforth in Him, you will strive to cultivate within you the fruits of the Spirit, faithfully seeking His promised aid in holy ordinances, in the study of the Word, in sanctifying the Lord's day, and calling upon Him in prayer.

You accept the watch and care of this church. You promise to study its purity and peace; to love and help its members as brethren; to attend and uphold with us its worship and ordinances; till we all come, in the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ.

Thus you covenant with God and with us?

[The members of the Church shall rise and say:]

We, then, the members of this Church, do joyfully receive you into our fellowship and communion, and give thanks to God who hath inclined your heart to fear His name. We promise to treat you with affection, to watch over you with tenderness, and to offer our prayers to the great Head of the Church that you may be enabled to fulfill this solemn Covenant.

[The minister shall say:]

And now, beloved, ye are now no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the household of God; and are built upon the foundation of the prophets and the apostles, Jesus Christ Himself being the chief Corner-stone.

The Lord bless you and keep you:

The Lord make His face shine upon you and be gracious unto you:

The Lord lift up His countenance upon you and give you peace.

Now unto Him who is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of His glory with exceeding joy, to the only wise God our Saviour be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and forever. AMEN.

In token of our welcome, take this hand of fellowship, and remember these words which the Scripture saith:

[The minister shall take each by the hand, repeating some fit passage of Scripture.]

Form for the Baptism of Infants.

[The minister shall read from these passages:]

Hear the promise of old:

"The mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear Him, and His righteousness unto children's children; to such as keep His covenant, and to those that remember His commandments to do them."

"I will pour My spirit upon thy seed, and My blessing upon thy offspring."

Hear the parent's consecration:

"For this child I prayed, and the Lord hath given me my petition which I asked of Him. Therefore also I have lent him to the Lord; as long as he liveth he shall be lent to the Lord."

Hear the command of our Lord Jesus:

"Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."

Hear the Saviour's invitation:

"Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

[The minister shall address the parents:]

Dearly beloved, as you come here to present your child for the baptismal seal of God's ancient covenant with His people, I entreat you, first of all, to consecrate yourselves anew to Him, to love Him with all your heart and soul and mind and strength. Only thus can you rightly take these vows and fulfill your part of this solemn agreement. God hath said, "I will establish My covenant between Me and thee, and thy seed after thee, in their generations, for an everlasting covenant; to be a God to thee and to thy seed after thee." Believing in the reality of this relation, and recognizing its preciousness, you desire that your offspring may enjoy its privileges. You do now, therefore, by this rite of baptism, solemnly dedicate this child to be the Lord's. In humble dependence upon His aid, you promise that you will faithfully endeavor to bring him up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, training him in the love of God, instructing him in His word, and prayerfully seeking to lead him to Christ, that in due time he may joyfully assume the obligations of this covenant and ratify this, your parental act, of his own free choice.

[Baptism will now be administered.]

We, the members of this church,

[The church will here rise]

do now receive this child into a special relationship of love and care. We promise, with the Divine aid, to watch over him, to pray for him, and to endeavor to influence him to become a child of God and an heir of glory.

Rules of Government.

I. NAME.

This church shall be known as the "PILGRIM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH OF WORCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS."

II. POLITY.

This church is Congregational in its form of government, inasmuch as:

(a) It recognizes the equality of all its (adult) members in the privileges of its communion, unless they have been forfeited by misconduct, or withdrawn by regular process.

(b) It maintains its independence in the management of its internal affairs, deeming itself competent under Christ to control its discipline and order of worship.

(c) It acknowledges the fellowship of sister churches, seeking their aid in advisory councils and cherishing a tender and practical interest in their prosperity and peace.

These principles it believes are set forth in the teachings of the New Testament and the practice of the apostolic church.

III. OFFICERS.

The officers of this church shall be a Pastor, a Superintendent of the Sunday School, two or more Deacons, a Clerk, a Treasurer, and an Auditor. These officers, except as otherwise provided, shall be elected annually by ballot, and shall serve until their successors are qualified.

The Pastor.

The Pastor, as soon as may be after his installation, shall become a member of this church, shall have control of the pulpit and exercises of public worship, and shall, when present, be the Moderator of all meetings for business, except in cases when the business may pertain to himself.

Deacons.

The Deacons shall be so elected that (after the first election) one Deacon shall be chosen each year for a term of service that shall correspond to the number of Deacons.

To the Deacons shall pertain the duty of preparing for and assisting in the administration of the Lord's Supper.

They shall aid the Pastor in the spiritual watch and care of the church.

One of their number shall take charge of business meetings, when the Pastor is not present or eligible, and in his temporary absence have charge of the prayer meeting.

They shall also, in connection with the Prudential Committee of the Society, provide for the supply of the pulpit.

They shall be the Trustees of any moneys or other property belonging to the church.

AMENDMENT.

The regular term of the deacons' service shall be six years.

An interim of one year shall intervene before a person having served a full term shall be again eligible for election.

Adopted Oct. 25th, 1893.

Church Committee.

The Church Committee shall consist of the Pastor, Superintendent of the Sunday School, Deacons, Clerk and two or more others appointed by the church in such manner that the term of one shall expire each year. Exercising a general oversight of the interests of the church, they shall carefully inform themselves as to the qualifications of such persons as desire to unite with it, either on confession of faith or by letter, and propound those so approved. They shall receive complaints and prepare for action cases of discipline.

Various Committees.

The church may appoint other committees for special duties, such as the care of the sick, and the poor, and strangers, all of which shall report annually to the church.

Clerk.

The Clerk shall keep a true record of the business meetings of the church and meetings of the Church Committee, of the additions to and dismissions from the church, of baptisms, and councils in which the church takes part.

In the name of the church, he shall issue such letters as shall be by it directed. He shall report at the annual meeting.

Treasurer.

The Treasurer shall receive and dispense the charities of the church, and pay from the funds of the church all necessary expenses, as may be directed by the Church Committee, and report in writing at the annual meeting.

Auditor.

The Auditor shall examine the books of the Treasurer, and report in writing at the annual meeting, or whenever requested by the Church Committee.

Sunday School Superintendent.

The Superintendent of the Sunday School shall be elected annually by the church.

He shall have charge of its exercises, appoint teachers, and report annually in writing. He shall be a member of this church.

Yet, as the Sunday School is regarded by the church as a most important part of its work, the Pastor shall be considered as its head.

Membership.

Membership in this church is based upon satisfactory evidence of piety and assent to its confession of faith and covenant. Persons desiring to become members, either on confession of faith or by letter, shall come before the Church Committee for examination, and upon their recommendation shall be propounded for admission at least one week before their reception.

The question of their admission shall ordinarily be acted upon at the preparatory service.

Letters of Recommendation.

No letters of recommendation shall be received which bear date more than one year previous to their presentation, except for satisfactory reasons.

Letters of Dismission.

Letters of dismission may be applied for through the Pastor, Deacons or Clerk, and the request may be acted upon at any prayer meeting, and the dismission shall be complete when notice shall be received of this reception by the church to whom the letter was addressed. No letter shall be considered valid for more than one year from its date, and this limitation shall be stated in the letter.

V. MEETINGS.

The annual meeting for the election of officers shall be holden on the first Wednesday evening of October in each year, and the term of office of persons thus elected shall begin with the first day of November following.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper shall be observed on the first Sabbaths of July, September, November, January, March and May. The wine provided for the service shall be the unfermented "fruit of the vine." Other meetings may be held when deemed necessary by the Church Commiftee, or shall be called at the written request of five members, and shall be publicly announced.

Ten shall constitute a quorum, and all members of eighteen years of age or over shall be entitled to vote.

VI. DISCIPLINE.

Offenses subject to discipline are immoral conduct, breach of covenant vows, neglect of acknowledged religious duties, and avowed disbelief of the confession of faith of this church.

The rules of discipline shall be the law of Christ, as recorded in Matthew XVIII: 15-19, and II Corinthians III: 6.

The censures of the church are private reproof, public admonition, suspension, withdrawal of fellowship, and excommunication, and shall be administered as the church may direct.

VII. RELATIONS TO THE SOCIETY.

All male members of the church who have attained their majority shall become members of the Pilgrim Congregational Society.

In the calling or dismission of a Pastor, the church and society will act as concurrent bodies. The church shall take the initiatory steps and hold the privilege of naming a candidate for the pastorate and asking the concurrence of the society. The expenses of the Pastor and delegates to any ecclesiastical body as representatives of the church shall be paid from the funds of the same. A majority vote shall decide all questions, except in the call of a Pastor, admission to membership, and cases of discipline, for which a two-thirds vote shall be required.

VIII. AMENDMENTS.

No amendments of these rules shall be made, unless submitted in writing at a meeting previous to that on which final action is taken, and shall then require a two-thirds vote of members present and voting.

CHURCH COMMITTEE.

(It has been the custom of the church to appoint the two not included on the committee ex-officiis from its lady members; and in addition to elect annually one person to represent the Christian Endeavor Societies.)

DUTIES OF THE OFFICERS AND PRUDENTIAL COMMITTEE.

SECTION 1. The Clerk shall keep a full and true record of the doings of the Society, shall notify members of annual and special meetings and shall also be the Clerk of the Prudential Committee.

SEC. 2. The Treasurer with the Auditors shall have charge of the weekly collections, and count and keep record of the same, together with all monies received from pew rentals or from any other source. He shall be the custodian of said funds, and shall disburse the same only upon the written approval of the Chairman of the Prudential Committee and one of the members of any committee authorized to incur the indebtedness, with the exception of the Pastor's salary, which, being definitely fixed by vote of the Society, shall be exempt from the provisions of this clause. He shall present to the Prudential Committee a statement of the financial condition of the Society whenever they require it. He shall keep an accurate and true account of all receipts and payments of every kind, and at the annual meeting of the Society he shall present a full report, regularly audited, of all such receipts and disbursements during the current year.

SEC. 3. The Auditors, in addition to the duty assigned them in the preceding section, shall examine the Treasurer's book, with all vouchers, bills, accounts and papers pertaining to the indebtedness and assets of the Society, immediately before the annual meeting, or at any other time that the Society may direct, and report to the Society thereon in writing.

SEC. 4. The Prudential Committee shall organize by the choice of a chairman, and shall keep a record of their doings. They shall, acting for the Society, have the general supervision of its affairs. They shall, in accordance with the Society's directions, make the necessary provision to secure its revenue, and if need be, devise ways and means for increasing the same. They shall have the care of the meeting house, authorize all needed repairs thereon, keep it insured, purchase supplies, and have the general charge of all within and without the building that requires the Society's attention. They shall authorize all payments or abatements of every kind, not provided for by special vote of the Society. At the annual meeting they shall present a written report of the condition and prospects of the Society.

SEC. 5. The Trustees shall also be and are hereby constituted a Board of Assessors for fixing the value of pew rentals in the Society's meeting house, and shall, as soon as practicable after the annual meeting, designate one of their number, to whom application may be made for sittings. They shall also act in conjunction with the deacons of the church in the matter of procuring a supply for the pulpit during the absence of the pastor.

ARTICLE IV.

MEETINGS.

SECTION 1. The annual meeting of the Society shall be held on the second Monday in December for the election of officers and transaction of other business, but this meeting shall be adjourned to the second Monday in January for the hearing and acting upon the annual reports of the officers of the Society.

SEC. 2. The Moderator of meetings held for choice of officers shall be elected by ballot.

SEC. 3. Special meetings may be called by a majority of the Prudential Committee, or at the written request of five members of the Society, and shall be notified in the same way as the annual meetings. The Moderator of special meetings may be chosen viva voce. All special meetings may be adjourned to the call of the Clerk, or if there is no Clerk, or he is absent, one of the Prudential Committee shall preside in the choice of a Moderator, and a Clerk may then be chosen either pro tempore, or to fill the vacancy, as the case may require. The Moderator may administer the oath to the Clerk, and the Clerk to the Prudential Committee and Treasurer, or said oath may be administered by a Justice of the Peace or Notary Public.

ARTICLE V.

MEMBERS.

The members of the Society shall be the members of the Church connected with the Society, who have attained their majority, and shall sign these By-Laws, and only such shall be entitled to vote and to hold office. Any person who from any cause ceases to be a member of the Church connected with the Society shall by reason of that fact cease to be a member of the Society.

Non-resident members and those who have received letters of dismissal to other churches, shall also by that fact lose their privilege of voting in this Society.

ARTICLE VI.

USE OF THE MEETING HOUSE.

The Chairman of the Prudential Committee, the Clerk and Treasurer of the Society for the time being, may grant the use of the meeting house for such purposes as are not inconsistent with the rights and purposes of the Society, and do not conflict with the regular Church services.

ARTICLE VII.

AMENDMENTS AND QUORUMS.

These By-Laws may be altered or amended at any meeting called for that purpose, and by a two-thirds vote of those present at such meeting.

Seven members shall constitute a quorum to transact business.

Constitution.

1. There shall be a session of the Sabbath School each Sabbath for one hour.

2. The officers of the school shall consist of a Superintendent, one or more Assistant Superintendents, a Secretary, a Treasurer, a Librarian, and an Executive Committee of three adult members of the school.

These officers, together with the pastor as the recognized head of the school, and the Superintendents of the primary departments shall constitute the Executive Board of the school.

3. The above named officers, with the exception of the Superintendent (who is elected by the Church), shall be elected annually by ballot some evening during the third week in the month of October, designated by the Executive Board, due notice having been given on the Sabbath preceding such election.

The persons thus elected shall assume the duties of their several offices, on the first Sabbath in November, and shall hold their positions until their successors are chosen.

4. The members of the school, over fourteen years of age, shall be entitled to vote at the election of officers, and in all other matters which are brought before the school.

5. The Superintendent shall have the general management of the school, shall preside at all its gatherings and shall be Chairman of the Executive Board.

6. The Assistant Superintendents shall aid the Superintendent in the management of the school and in his absence or at his request shall act in his place.

7. The Secretary and Treasurer shall be one and the same person. As Secretary, he shall keep an accurate record of the attendance of the school, and its general condition. He shall be clerk of the Executive Board and shall keep a record of all business transacted.

He shall have charge of all books and papers belonging to the school (except the Library books). He shall be empowered to appoint one or more assistants, subject to the approval of the Executive Board.

He shall as Treasurer receive all the money belonging to the school and shall disburse the same subject to the approval of an auditor, who shall be appointed by the Executive Board or by a vote of appropriation by the school.

He shall report to the school as often as requested by the Superintendent, and shall render at the annual meeting a written report of the condition of the school properly audited.

8. The Librarian shall have charge of all books pertaining to the Library, make rules for its government, appoint his or her assistants, subject to the approval of the Executive Board, and at the annual meeting render a written report of its condition.

9. The Executive Board shall convene at any time, at the call of the Superintendent or by a request of a majority of its members, of which five shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

As soon as may be after the election, the Executive Board shall convene and elect a Superintendent of the primary department, who shall have, under the direction of the Superintendent, the management of the primary department, with the appointment of teachers and all needed assistants, and shall become a member of the Executive Board upon election; shall appoint an auditor to examine the Treasurer's account; shall consider all nominations for teachers made by the Superintendent, and shall have the general supervision of the affairs of the school.

10. These standing rules may be temporarily suspended by a three-fourths vote of the school present and voting.

They may be altered or amended by a three-fourths vote of the school present and voting, provided that a written notice stating the exact language of the proposed alteration or amendment shall have been given at least one week previous to any action thereon.

Faithfully yours,
C. M. Southgate.
